Net

Nets are weapons. They are often used by water-based races, and are often set with weights, hooks, and/or barbs.

• ENC: 75

Space required: 10'

• RoF: 1/2

• Range: 1"/2"/3"

WvAC:

0
+9	+8	+7	+6	+5	+4	+3	+2	+1	0	-1

Effect

- If the attack hits, the target is netted. The target must roll a save vs breath;<sup>1)</sup> if they fail, they are also trapped.
- Netted creatures lose any DEX bonus to AC (or take a -1 penalty if they have no DEX bonus), are at 50% MV, and cannot charge.
- Trapped creatures are unable able to move, use weapons, or cast spells.
- Both effects last for 1-4 rounds.
  - This duration is halved (round up) if the trapped creature has a bladed weapon handy of dagger length or shorter.
  - A creature can spend a round making an open doors roll. On a success, the duration is reduced by one round. This can be done multiple times.

Characters attempting to use an underwater net suffer a -4 to hit unless they've both (1) taken the net as a weapon proficiency, and (2) trained in its use while underwater.<sup>2)</sup> Above-water nets suffer the regular untrained penalty for lacking the weapon proficiency.

Rules Note

There is no single ruleset for refereeing nets; there are several options provided by various monster entries and modules. Demon Idol uses the WG4 rules and this Dragonsfoot thread as inspiration, and adapts them to suit general-purpose net weapons.

In written works, a DEX save is often used. However this requires DM fiat if used against the many monsters who lack DEX scores. Therefore, breath is more practical.
